

COFC 1010 : Introduction to Construction

This course covers the introduction to the different crafts in the building trades through an overview of the building process. The student is also introduced to the attitudes in life skills required to succeed in the construction industry. Topics include an introduction to the construction trades, workplace expectations, professional ethical standards,, proper practices, fundamentals of measurement, working in teams, learning for success, and life skills.

Credits 2

Prerequisites

None.

Corequisites

None