

HORT 1050: Nursery Production & Management

Develops skills necessary to propagate and produce both container and field grown nursery stock. Topics include: industry overview, facility design, propagation techniques and environment, field grown and container production, and managerial functions for nursery production.

Credits: 4

Program: Horticulture